

Principal's Award – Amaiah King

Amaiah epitomises all the personal characteristics of a 'rock star' learner. She strives to be the best that she can be every day.

She takes risks and fully understands that 'success is not final and failure is not fatal' (Winston Churchill). She has an outstanding work ethic, is organised, calm under pressure, able to manage her time well, problem solve and work independently. Amaiah takes on feedback in a positive way and looks to help others with their learning when she is able to do so.

Out of the classroom, she is committed to her many sporting endeavours and is a positive team player. She cares about other people and therefore has positive relationships with her classmates, other children and teachers. She is an outstanding role model especially to the five year olds in her buddy class.

Ka mau te wehi, Amaiah. You will be a great success in life.
